SERVICE PROGRAMS DESIGNED FOR YOU

We have a variety of service programs to suit your needs. Programs include our Professional Services Package, training, Best Practice workshops, site audits, our annual client conference, and our Revenue Enhancement Services, just to name a few.

Professional Services Package – Our PSP program can be used to improve your site's performance or for strategic planning. We can run site audits at any time so you can evaluate the effectiveness of your online classifieds and make adjustments to your online strategy as your market changes and grows.

Training – Sign up for the Adicio Academy and receive training on your new software or use it to train new or transitioning employees. We also offer system training for site administrators so they can utilize all of our tools to succeed online.

Best Practice Workshops – We offer workshops every quarter where attendees share a wide range of practical ideas that they can implement right away. Best practices focus on efforts that boost revenues, traffic, exposure or any other important aspect of operating an online classified site.

Site Audits – We can audit your site to see how your revenue is progressing as well as provide comparisons to similar-sized sites so you can evaluate the effectiveness of your online efforts and determine next steps to grow your market.

Annual Client Conference – Once a year, Adicio hosts a complimentary Client Conference where clients can network with industry peers and explore best practices covering the recruitment, automotive and real estate classified markets.

Revenue Enhancement Services – Receive expert assistance in deploying and managing all of our revenue-generating tools and upsells available on each of our software platforms. We offer both pre-sales and post-sales assistance.

Sales Support Services – Adicio's Sales Support Group will take on your sales efforts and even manage your career site's operations. Our highly trained and experienced sales team will handle all sales inquiries and support issues, and we'll leverage our leading E-Commerce System to accept and upsell listings originating from the web and from your print editions.
